WEBINAR INFORMATION

PRESENTED BY: MELANIE ALEXANDRA

As VET practitioners we live and breathe a world of education change. Assessing evidence produced as a result of consistently documented instructions, and gathered through a range of methods and techniques, is a race often lost against ever-changing packaging requirements and industry relevance.

This session explores self-assurance strategies that enable not only compliance confidence but the implementation of continued quality assurance across your assessment systems and practices. The intent of this session is to equip you with some essential strategies for taking control of your own assessment practices and resources. This session will highlight best practice approaches across the development of assessment tools and conducting of assessment

KEY TOPICS

- the purpose behind clear and consistent, documented task instructions and how this may impact upon the audience's interpretation of what they are required to produce for assessment
- making your assessment tools and practices valid ensuring they always meet training package and industry requirements, and
- gathering assessment evidence correctly to inform valid assessment judgments.
